

November 2008 News

WEBSITE NEWS: We are working hard with the update of our store website front page, which is due to go up on November 22nd. We have quite a few new products now in stock as well as the addition of several cosmetic lines we will be carrying; Kryolan, Mehron and RCMA. We are very excited about the growth the store is experiencing, and as always, bringing you the best in professional makeup for airbrushing, film, HDTV, and special makeup effects products at low prices.

FILM & TV NEWS: Natural Born Cosmetics (NBC) is growing tremendously with our domestic and International customer base. We are delighted to announce that Universal Studios makeup department for Adam Sandler's next film, "Funny People", has selected Paint and Powder Cosmetics as a makeup supply vendor for the production now filming. Even though we sell products to several Television show productions we are thrilled to see several of our NBC products make it to the big screen with this forthcoming movie, our first "big screen" appearance!

MAKEUP PRODUCT EDUCATION: If you haven't already noticed the "Learning Center" page on the store in the left hand column link, this is a section where articles are posted on various skin care and makeup issues. These articles are written to serve the knowledge base of our clientele and novice makeup artists with up to date information and research on a variety of cosmetic topics. We hope you find them informative and helpful in making decisions in product choices for your needs.

PROFESSIONAL ARTIST DISCOUNT: We get a lot of inquiries about a professional artist discount program. We feel our lower competitive pricing and free shipping on orders of $50 or more is a savings that everyone can enjoy. Also, we don't charge a handling fee or fuel surcharge fee that most every online cosmetic company is now implementing because of the economic climate. We make every effort to absorb the rising costs of pricing and shipping and pass those savings on to our customers. We hope our professional artist customers will consider this a bonus in shopping with us.

Starting with this November newsletter issue we will be posting all the newsletters in pdf format in the Customer Service Center section under the "Monthly Newsletter" link at the top of the section. We always welcome your comments and feedback so we can better serve you!

Paint and Powder Cosmetics strives to be your "one-stop-shop" for all the popular cosmetic brands and expendables you need. Our customers know they are our number one priority, and can always call or email for direct personal assistance from a professional makeup artist for their cosmetic needs during regular store business hours. We pride ourselves on high quality products that are brand new in stock, super fast shipping (and in many cases same day shipping) and with the most outstanding customer service found on the internet!

Thank you for shopping with us, we appreciate your business!
