

BRAND AUTHENTICITY - Paint and Powder Cosmetics is an official authorized dealership of the product lines we offer for sale on our website and at our physical store location in Chantilly, VA. We DO NOT resell or authorize any of our product inventory to be sold on EBay, Amazon, or through any other third party location, and never will. Likewise, we do not purchase any inventory from any of these third party entities for sale in our store, and only buy fresh pristine product direct from original brand manufacturers.

Therefore, be assured that any product you purchase from us is fresh, sealed, and straight from the brand manufacturer's facilities. For the same reason, we do not ever take back used or compromised products like other stores do and recirculate them in their inventory for sale. You can trust the integrity of our store's commitment to you that every product you purchase from us is brand new and direct from the manufacturer.

We also do not sell any brands with protected international distributorships or cooperative agreements to countries or retailers outside of North America. This policy honors and insures our brand loyalty, so that our vendors and customers receive the highest standard in ethical business practices along with top quality products.
