

baby haven

Paint and Powder Cosmetics is inspired by the incredible work of Baby Haven, an orphanage founded for the sole purpose of rescuing dying and abandoned newborn infants found in the outskirt villages and towns of Johannesburg, South Africa. These little ones have a beacon of life and hope through this organization, who works tirelessly in a region that is ravaged with poverty and the devastation of AIDS.

The sole focus of Paint and Powder Cosmetics is not only providing great products and first rate customer service, but to sustain a significant income stream for this worthy cause, and directly contribute to this work of mercy and care for these helpless and homeless infants. Our store profits go directly to Baby Haven to support their operations, and we appreciate each and every one of our customer's orders that help us support this effort.

The Baby Haven logo, a yellow bucket with a single daisy, is unique in it's origin in that one of the first rescues, a baby girl, was found abandoned and dying in a field inside a yellow utility bucket commonly used in these villages. Thus this yellow bucket has come to represent life and a hope-filled future for these babies, and adoption into loving families. For more information about Baby Haven, please contact them at Babyhaven.org. They are also on Facebook!

